

Did You Miss THE STURGIS MOTORCYCLE RALLY? Here's My Experience As a First-Timer

As I rolled through the streets of Sturgis and turned every corner, I would see amazing motorcycles with a unique blend of performance, customization and beautiful paint jobs. I found many of the owners of these jaw dropping bikes to be professionals such as doctors, lawyers and accountants all with a passion and desire to travel the unbeaten path.

Throughout the week I hung out at bars like The Knuckle Saloon and Buffalo Chips, purchased gifts for the fam at local shops, and always eating great food. I had the opportunity to hear amazing bands you rarely ever see in one place. From Keith Urban, Toby Keith, Cheap Trick, Styx, Fog Hat and Reverend Horton Heat from my Alma Mater in Denton Texas.

If you ever get the opportunity to visit Sturgis, I whole heartedly recommend a visit as I now know, by an almost fatalistic conformity with the facts, that my destiny is to travel to places such as Sturgis. This will be on my Travel List for next year as it will be the 80th year anniversary which I can only imagine will be nothing less than spectacular.

When a Loved One Crashes Right In Front Of You ... WHAT WOULD YOU DO?

Because I work for Accident Scene Management and have taken the training, I realize how important the classes are -- but one cannot truly appreciate the value of that information until they are faced with an accident that happens right before their eyes! I could not have anticipated that this would happen to me.

While I was riding with my fiancée, a car passed us on our right as we were trying to make a right turn. Just a few feet in front of me I saw the person I love go flying through the air. As the car hit him, he went one direction with his bike going in the opposite direction. The first thoughts in my mind were, "Stay calm and remember what you learned in Accident Scene Management." I still have questions on if I could have done anything different, but I think everything turned out the best that it possibly could under the circumstances. I am so grateful that I was prepared.

Who Airbrushed the Sons of Anarchy Bikes?

Mick Cassidy was asked by FX to design and airbrush the grim reaper for the bikes seen on the Sons of Anarchy TV show. Mick's beautifully airbrushed paint designs have been seen in many motorcycle magazines including Easyriders, Iron Horse, and Airbrush.

Mick is originally from Dublin, Ireland. He studied art with a heavy influence in Celtic design and knot work. Watch this stunning video to be inspired by Mick's Celtic creations:
